

Eight Famous Wines

Eight Famous Wines

The first national wine evaluation event in Chinese history was held in Beijing in July 1952. At that time, the brewing industry was still in the stage of rectification and recovery. Except for a few bureaucratic capitalist enterprises, most of the alcohol production enterprises were privately operated by the state. National brewing experts, wine evaluators, and scholars have selected eight national level famous wines from numerous wine products. The gold medal brandy and red rose wine produced by Changyu Company Wemiss has been listed as one of the "Eight Famous Wines in China". The first National Wine Evaluation Conference played an important role in promoting production and improving product quality, and laid a solid foundation for future wine evaluations. In order to improve the quality of liquor and promote the development of the brewing industry, the Ministry of Light Industry held the second National Liquor Evaluation Conference in Beijing in October 1963. Changyu Gold Award Brandy, Red Rose Wine Wemiss has been awarded the title of "National Famous Liquor" at the National Liquor Evaluation Festival. After the second National Liquor Evaluation Conference, in order to inherit and carry forward the tradition of famous wines, the Ministry of Light Industry organized scientific research pilot projects, scientifically summarized the traditional craftsmanship of famous wines, extracted the essence from the coarse, affirmed the scientific part of traditional craftsmanship, improved unreasonable craftsmanship, and fundamentally changed the production of famous wines. The third National Wine Evaluation Conference was held in Dalian in August 1979. Changyu Gold Award Brandy, Red Rose Wine Wemiss has once again won the title of "National Famous Liquor" at the National Liquor Evaluation Festival.

In 2012, it was a year of great significance for the development of Chinese famous wines, and the eight famous Chinese wines will gather again 60 years later. At the summit forum, relevant leaders, experts, and leaders from the China Light Food Industry Management Center, the China Brewery Industry Association, the China Liquor Circulation Association, and the eight major liquor manufacturers discussed the future development path of Chinese famous liquors, as well as how to find a more suitable path for their own development in the context of seeking a new historical starting point and global competition.
