

Brewing fragrance

In 1992, it was the 100th anniversary of the establishment of Changyu Company, and it was a memorable year for the people of Changyu. At this time, it is the eve of the centenary celebration of Changyu, and various preparations are being carried out in full swing. Comrade Jiang Zemin's visit has made Changyu's centenary celebration even more joyful.

At 16:35 in the afternoon, Comrade Jiang Zemin, accompanied by provincial and municipal officials, arrived at Changyu Company. Comrade Sun Liqiang and Comrade Tian Fuyong, leaders of Changyu Company, respectively reported on the relevant situation.

The Canglang in the inscription originally referred to the color of water. Mencius once said, "The water of Canglang is clear.". The water color of the waves represents joy and joy, expressing a state of infinite meaning in words, which was later extended to culture; Brewing is synonymous with making wine, and also refers to the process of making wine with care. The inscription is not only a recognition of the rich historical and cultural heritage of Chang Yu by national leaders, but also a motivation for his future work, and it also gives Chang Yu more confidence and strength in his progress.
